a Sub-Fund of Van Eck (the "SICAV")

Objectives and Investment Policy

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Sub-Fund seeks total return, consisting of income and capital appreciation, by investing in emerging market debt securities (contracts to repay borrowed money that typically pay interest). The Sub-Fund expects to invest in debt issued in either the currency of the country in which they are issued or in hard currencies (globally traded major currencies). This debt may be issued by governments and government owned, controlled, or related entities, and by corporations. There is no limit on the amount the Sub-Fund may invest in one country or in securities denominated in one currency. The Sub-Fund may also invest in debt securities rated below investment grade.

In selecting the individual securities, the investment manager is guided by a fundamental assessment of countries. The investment process seeks to exploit mispriced valuations – comparing asset prices against a variety of measures that assess an issuer's ability to pay debt.

Risk and Reward Profile

What does it mean?

The risk and reward indicator is a measure of risk based on the past performance and simulated past performance of the Sub-Fund.

The risk and reward indicator is calculated using historical and simulated historical data. Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future. Therefore the risk classification may change over time. Even if the Sub-Fund is in the lowest risk category, it does not mean it is risk free or that capital is guaranteed or protected.

Why this Sub-Fund in this category?

The Sub-Fund is rated 4 due to the nature of its investments. Specifically, the Sub-Fund's investments are concentrated emerging market debt securities (no less than two-thirds of the Sub-Fund's assets).

Are there any other particular risks?

The following risks can be materially relevant but are not necessarily adequately captured by the synthetic risk indicator and may cause additional loss:

Bonds and bond funds will decrease in value as interest rates rise. Investing in foreign denominated and/or domiciled securities may involve heightened risk due to currency fluctuations, and economic and political risks, which may be enhanced in emerging markets. As the Sub-Fund may invest in securities denominated in foreign currencies and some of the income received by the Fund will be in foreign currencies, changes in currency exchange rates may negatively impact the Fund's return. The Sub-Fund may also be subject to credit risk, interest rate risk, sovereign debt risk, tax risk, non-diversification risk and risks associated with non-investment grade securities. Non-investment grade securities may be subject to greater market fluctuations and risk of default or loss of income and principal than securities in higher rating categories. For more information about risk, see the "Risk Factors" section in the prospectus, available on www.vaneck.com.
