3. What do we mean by a complaint?

A complaint is any expression of dissatisfaction that a client or a potential client ("Complainant") raises to VanEck in connection with a product offered by VanEck or the provision of an investment service or an ancillary service. The term "complaint" does not necessarily have to be used. The complaint does not require any specific form and can be addressed in the official language (or one of the official languages) of the investor's Member State.

4. What do we need from you to process your complaint?

To enable us to efficiently investigate your complaint, complaints should be handed in as close as possible to the related event of subject matter. Your complaint should include the following information:

- The date your case or matter occurred;
- The product or service relating to the complaint; and
- What occurred and how you have been affected.

5. Where can you file a complaint?
