

Underlying Index Designed for Enhanced Yield Potential

FLTR®

VanEck IG Floating Rate ETF

Near-Zero Duration with Floating Rate Notes

The periodic coupon resets of floating rate notes result in near-zero duration, which may help limit losses and provide higher coupons when interest rates rise.

Long Maturity Bias Enhances Yield Potential<sup>1</sup>

FLTR's underlying index has a bias towards longer-maturity notes, which tend to have greater yield without an increase in interest rate risk.

Comparative Floating Rate Note Index Yield and Duration

As of 9/30/2025

Source: FactSet, ICE Data Services.

Investment Grade Credit Exposure

The focus on investment grade bonds allows investors to benefit from higher credit spreads while maintaining high average credit quality.

Income for Rising Rates

Access to investment grade corporate floating rate notes

Floating rate notes have near-zero duration and pay coupons that reset periodically

Attractive cash complement due to enhanced yield potential

<sup>1</sup> The ICE 0-5 Year US Floating Rate Corporate & Quasi-Government Index includes all US domestic securities with a remaining term to final maturity less than five years tracks the performance of floating rate U.S. dollar denominated investment grade debt publicly issued in the U.S. domestic market, including U.S. agency, foreign government, supranational and corporate securities while the MVIS US Investment Grade Floating Rate Index is weighted with a bias to FRNs in the index with longer years to maturity.

Yield-to-Worst measures the lowest of either yield-to-maturity or yield-to-call date on every possible call date.

Interest Rate Duration measures a bond's sensitivity to interest rate changes that reflects the change in a bond's price given a change in yield.

The "Net Asset Value" (NAV) of a VanEck Exchange Traded Fund (ETF) is determined at the close of each business day, and represents the dollar value of one share of the fund; it is calculated by taking the total assets of the fund, subtracting total liabilities, and dividing by the total number of shares outstanding. The NAV is not necessarily the same as the ETF's intraday trading value. VanEck ETF investors should not expect to buy or sell shares at NAV.

Index returns are not Fund returns and do not reflect any management fees or brokerage expenses. Certain indices may take into account withholding taxes. Investors can not invest directly in the Index. Index returns assume that dividends have been reinvested.

The indices listed are unmanaged indices and do not reflect the payment of transaction costs, advisory fees, or expenses that are associated with an investment in any underlying exchange-traded funds. An index's performance is not illustrative of any underlying exchange-traded fund's performance. Indices are not securities in which investments can be made.
