

Metals Shaping Electrification

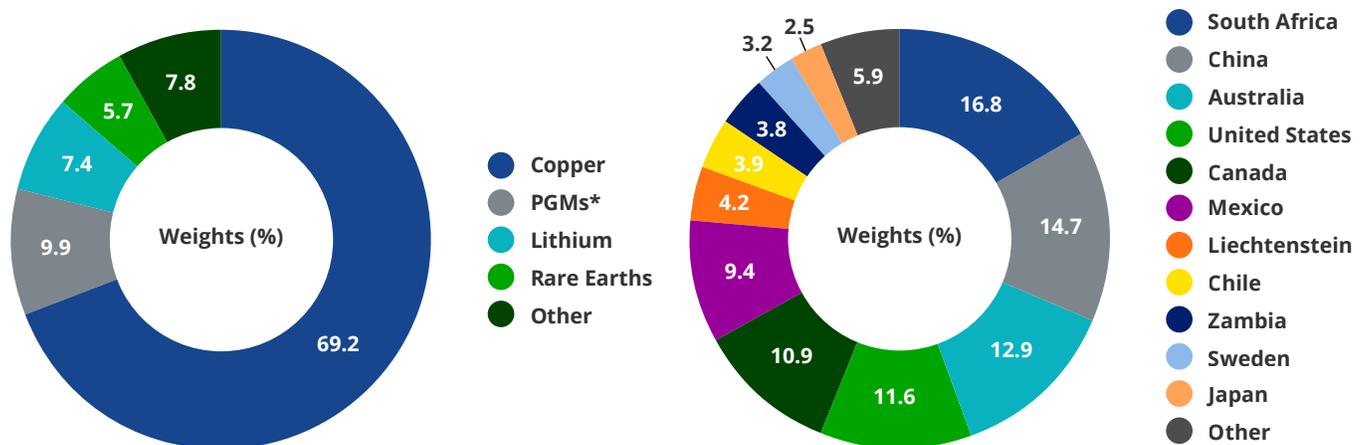

EMET | VanEck Copper and Green Metals ETF

VanEck Copper and Green Metals ETF (EMET) offers liquid, diversified exposure to global copper and critical-minerals producers positioned to benefit from rising electrification demand amid structurally constrained supply.

Why EMET?

- Targeted electrification exposure: Provides liquid, diversified access to global copper and metal producers essential to power grids, EVs and data centers
- Supportive supply-demand backdrop: Multi-year demand growth is colliding with structural supply constraints, tightening market balances
- Equity positioning for higher prices: Offers exposure to companies that may benefit from rising copper prices and increased volatility

EMET provides concentrated exposure to copper-led global mining companies, diversified across key green metals and geographies
