

Exclude Financials Without Sacrificing Yield

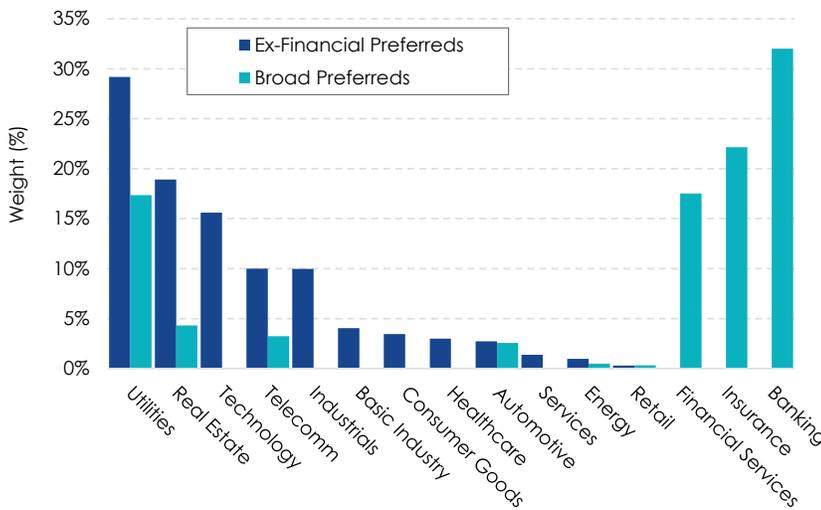

PFXF

VanEck Preferred Securities ex Financials ETF

Preferred securities are hybrids of stocks and bonds that can be attractive to investors seeking income and capital appreciation. Removing financial companies from the preferreds universe has historically offered greater yield and diversification.

Why PFXF?

- High Income Potential
 Historically, a company's preferred securities have offered higher yield than its common stock and senior debt.
- Differentiated Exposure
 Index excludes financial companies, which often dominate broad-based indices, resulting in greater diversification without sacrificing yield.
- Yield Advantage
 Non-financial preferreds have historically offered higher yields than financial preferreds
