The majority, and possibly all, of these distributions will be paid out of net investment income earned by the Funds, if applicable. Some portion, or all of the distribution may comprise capital gains or return of capital.

The amount of distributions paid by each fund may vary from time to time. Past amounts of distributions are no guarantee of future distributions payment amounts.

Shareholders or potential shareholders of the VanEck ETFs should obtain their own independent tax advice based on their particular circumstances.

The principal risks of investing in VanEck ETFs include sector, market, economic, political, foreign currency, world event, index tracking, active management, social media analytics, derivatives, blockchain, commodities and non-diversification risks, as well as fluctuations in net asset value and the risks associated with investing in less developed capital markets. The Funds may loan their securities, which may subject them to additional credit and counterparty risk. ETFs that invest in high-yield securities are subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield securities, which include a greater risk of loss of income and principal than funds holding higher-rated securities, concentration risk, credit risk, hedging risk, interest rate risk, and short sale risk. ETFs that invest in companies with small capitalizations are subject to elevated risks, which include, among others, greater volatility, lower trading volume and less liquidity than larger companies. Please see the prospectus of each Fund for more complete information regarding each Fund’s specific risks.

Investing involves substantial risk and high volatility, including possible loss of principal. An investor should consider the investment objective, risks, charges and expenses of a Fund carefully before investing.
